

A treemap visualization showing the distribution of five categories. The largest category, 'Perceptions', accounts for 53% of the total and is represented by a large dark purple rectangle on the left. To its right, the 'Priority' category (28%) is shown in a light purple rectangle. Above 'Priority' is the 'Policy' category (15%) in a reddish-pink rectangle. To the right of 'Policy' are two smaller categories: 'Behavior' (2%) in a yellow rectangle and 'Health' (3%) in a dark red rectangle. All categories are labeled with their name and percentage in white text.
